

Affordable Housing Activity Report

January – April 2017

From January through April 2017, a total of 1,295 households sought an affordable home from Avesta. However, due to scarce resources and limited turnover in our existing apartments, we were only able to assist 115 new households. As of the end of April, 1,864 households remain on Avesta’s waiting lists.

Avg. applicant household size: 1.80 people

Of the 115 new households that Avesta served in the first four months, 73% (84 households) required rental assistance in order to afford their housing, and their median household income was $11,191. Accordingly, 27% (31 households) were able to afford their housing without the benefit of rental assistance, and their median income was $24,868. In the first four months, the median income of all applicants was $13,200.
